

Gun Laws in Montana

#47 in the country for gun law strength

Down from #46 last year

Compare

Share

Montana has among the worst gun laws in the country and has an especially high rate of household firearm ownership. The Treasure State has one of the highest rates of gun deaths and gun suicide rates in the country.

Montana’s state legislature has repeatedly made the state’s weak laws even weaker. In 2021, state lawmakers eliminated the permit requirement for carrying a concealed gun in public and required colleges and universities to allow guns on their campuses.